

Responsible Recreation Foundation

The Responsible Recreation Foundation is a 501(c)(3) charitable organization that operates in the state of Colorado with the purpose of providing education, ethics, and science for the promotion of responsible recreation. Our vision is an informed community of outdoor recreation enthusiasts with diverse interests cooperating to promote multiple use, responsible recreation, and sustainable networks of roads and trails on public lands. We seek to accomplish this vision by working cooperatively with public land management agencies to promote policies and travel management plans that reflect multiple use concepts and which provide for sustainable, varied, and robust systems of trails as integral part of the plans.

The cornerstone of the Responsible Recreation Foundation is the Stay the Trail Campaign, which has several primary initiatives: education on responsible recreation ethics, trail maps, suggestions on where to ride, riding etiquette, sound emissions, etc. Other programs administered by the Responsible Recreation Foundation are the Colorado Trail Patrol, Science, and trail enhancement.

For more information:

Stay the Trail Web site
<http://www.staythetrail.org>

Greg Labbe
Responsible Recreation Program Interim Director
Responsible Recreation Foundation
P.O. Box 620252
Littleton, CO 80162
303-872-0088
labbe@cohvco.org

George Vonesh
Responsible Recreation Program Manager
Responsible Recreation Foundation
P.O. Box 620252
Littleton, CO 80162
303-872-0088
george@cohvco.org