Know Where to Go

In National Forests:

- For a list of all National Forests, visit the USDA Forest Service website.

In State Parks:

- For a list of all State Parks, visit the Colorado State Parks website.

In Bureau of Land Management Areas:

- For a list of all BLM areas, visit the Bureau of Land Management website.

In Colorado Parks & Wildlife Areas:

- For a list of all Colorado Parks & Wildlife areas, visit the Colorado Parks & Wildlife website.

In Private Trails:

- For a list of all private trails, visit the COHVA website.

Know Your Width

Some side-by-sides exceed 50 inches in width and are too wide for typical ATV trails. These wider vehicles are limited to designated 4x4 routes only. Observe all signs and access barriers.

Be Sensitive

Stay on the designated trails. Be aware of sensitive areas for wildlife and plants. Switchbacks are designed to maintain the stability of a trail, so don’t shortcut them. Keep the speed down in switchbacks.

No Shortcuts

The challenge is going over the tree. Don’t get stuck. Change gears in mud puddles to avoid bogging down. Go straight through mud puddles while maintaining a steady speed.

Mind the Signs

The signs and maps are your best guide. Observe all signs and access barriers. Stay on the designated trails. Be aware of sensitive areas for wildlife and plants.

Know Your Width

Some side-by-sides exceed 50 inches in width and are too wide for typical ATV trails. These wider vehicles are limited to designated 4x4 routes only. Observe all signs and access barriers.

Be Sensitive

Stay on the designated trails. Be aware of sensitive areas for wildlife and plants. Switchbacks are designed to maintain the stability of a trail, so don’t shortcut them. Keep the speed down in switchbacks.

No Shortcuts

The challenge is going over the tree. Don’t get stuck. Change gears in mud puddles to avoid bogging down. Go straight through mud puddles while maintaining a steady speed.

Mind the Signs

The signs and maps are your best guide. Observe all signs and access barriers. Stay on the designated trails. Be aware of sensitive areas for wildlife and plants.